

CASE STUDY

A 20-issue newsletter became a sales asset that touches every lead 20 times and pre-sells while the founder sleeps.

THE BUSINESS

A business treating a newsletter as content, a cost, when it is the highest-leverage sales asset on the whole map. You are reading the demo.

The situation

A newsletter is 20 automatic touches over five months, with no one remembering to follow up. It compounds backwards: subscriber 1,000 gets the same 20 issues subscriber 1 did.

Work done once in month one keeps selling in month twelve, the only asset where your back catalogue works the front desk.

What they did

- 1Planned all 20 hooks in one sitting, batched.
- 2Rendered case-study PDFs from locked templates, the factory.
- 3Sent, sequenced and triaged replies with the outbound machine.
- 4Let the series pre-sell silently: non-repliers become the dark funnel who write in when the need arrives.

The result, per year

20 automatic touches per lead, less than one chai per subscriber a year

A few founder-hours of planning that keeps selling to every subscriber for five months.

1,000

subscribers modelled

~40%

open each issue

2-3

clients a quarter from CTAs

dark funnel

the silent majority who convert later

	BEFORE	AFTER
Touches / lead	1	20
Back-catalogue	dead	selling
Follow-up	manual	automatic
Cost / sub / yr	high	< one chai

Want this exact machine?

Reply "NEWSLETTER" and I will scope your 20 issues. Free.

REPLY NEWSLETTER →

anandiyer.co.in